"ruth rendell is surely one of the greatest novelists presently at work in our language."- scott turow "rendell writes with such elegance and restraint, with such a literate voice and an insightful mind, that she transcends the mystery genre and achieves something almost sublime."-Ruth barbara rendell, baroness rendell of babergh, cbe (née grasemann; 17 february 1930 – 2 may 2015), was an english author of thrillers and psychological murder mysteries. [1] rendell's best-known creation, chief inspector wexford , was the hero of many popular police stories, some of them successfully adapted for tv. Excellent book, but does the author realise her potential? A spectacularly compelling story of blackmail, murders both accidental and opportunistic, and one life's fateful unravelling from ruth rendell, writing at her most acute and mesmerising. Ruth rendell is a fabulous british author who has churned out mystery after mystery filled with dark, demented twists. this is another tautly plotted, well crafted mystery with characters that, though seemingly normal, are just a tad off the beaten path. Ruth rendell is the author of road rage, the keys to the street, bloodlines, simisola, and the crocodile bird. she is the winner of the mystery writers of america grand master award.
